

Re-View: Are We There Yet?

Week 13

What Are You Talking About?

We must admit that our first thought in having a “review” at this time was to think in terms of what the young people had learned. Then we realized, once again, that basically this is not a class in which they are to learn certain material. Our concern is for them (and us) to see themselves as God sees them in Jesus. It is not just to learn something but for something to happen to them.

We realize that a review of how well they have learned the material would be easier to do. However, we think it is good to review in terms of a Re-View in regard to how they they and we view ourselves. This is more difficult, but it is also more important.

It will be good to see what has developed.

We are so grateful that you have come to be at Hosanna and have committed your time and hearts to our young people. It is our strong desire that you would grow in faith as they do. Hopefully, this year has given you the chance to look at yourselves in a new way. You all ROCK!!!

Goal: To re-view how we see ourselves now compared to the start of these lessons.
